

6516209025.txt

FCC Commissioners:

Satellite radio provides me with every thing I like about Radio and nothing I don't. The Government should not be protecting terrestrial broadcasters from competition. Traditional broadcaster need to adapt as it is clear that people are willing to pay for higher quality programming. The NAB needs to get over that fact that Satellite radio is here to stay. It is un-American for the NAB to expect the FCC to stifle competition from emerging technologies.

I see no problem with competition in local market programming.

Thank you

Peter J Gailunas,
Pembroke NH